ART-WORKMANSHIP.

A MONTHLY MAGAZINE OF DESIGN TO ILLUSTRATE THE MASTERPIECES OF ALL PERIODS.

Vol. I., with forty-four Plates. Cloth. Fol. Price 18s.

In Monthly Parts. Price 2s. 6d.

The following are the various subjects reproduced in "Art Workmanship":—Ancient and Modern Art—Architecture—Weaving, Embroidery, Lace—Ceramic Art, Glass, Crystal—Goldsmith's Art, including Jewelry, Enamel, and Inlaid Work (Niello)—Wrought and Cast Iron, Bronze and other non-precious Metals—Armoury—Furniture and Wood-carving—Carriages and other Vehicles, Horse-acoutrements—Wainscoting, Panelling, Mosaic in Wood—Type-founding and Typographic Ornaments—Bookbinding, Leather Work, etc.—House Decoration: Painting, Stucco, Mosaic—Tapestry, Paper-hanging, etc.

"We venture to predict a useful future for the new magazine, which appears to us to have cut out for itself an important task, in no sense adequately performed by any other serial extant."—Birmingham Gazette.

"To art workmen, and to all interested in art workmanship, the publication will prove an interesting and useful work."—Kidderminster Times.

"Messrs. Asher and Co. have started a new magazine on Art Ornamentation. A publication of the kind—now that we are turning our attention to technical education—was much needed, and the first part, just issued, promises that this work is just the thing that was wanted."—Bristol Times.

"The idea is a good one, and the publishers have in the first number given a capital indication of the manner in which it is likely to be carried out. 'Art Workmanship' will be found of great service to artists and to workmen who have aspirations after the artistic in design. We wish it all success."—Glasgow Herald.

"Not only are pretty pictures given, but the designs are made of the utmost utility to the workmen in the descriptions, plans, and cross-section which accompany the plates where necessary. . . . No skilled workman who takes a delight in producing his best work can study the pages of 'Art Workmanship' without improving his taste, and giving new directions to his handiwork."—Plymouth Western Daily Mercury.

"The book contains engravings of examples and details, on a scale which is large enough to make the copies serviceable."—Athenæum.

"The examples in the first part are all from the 16th century, and are admirably selected, not only as characteristic of the period, but as suggestive examples for modern designers. The engravings and chromolithographs are in the most finished style of art. We hail 'Art Workmanship' as one of the pioneers on the road to a pure and elevated school of Decorative Design in Great Britain."—North British Daily Mail.

"The specimens are most interesting in respect of their artistic significance, and they are here reproduced from excellent drawings in an effective style of engraving. . . . The engravings, however, are well adapted to tell their own story, and the magazine cannot fail, we should think, to prove exceedingly valuable to persons engaged in any department of industry affording scope for artistic design."—Scotsman.

"In every instance the engravings are executed in first-class style, and the letter-press accurately describes the character and history of the objects represented. The publication promises to be a useful and highly pleasing addition to the art literature of the present day, and we heartily commend it to the notice of our readers."—Nottingham Guardian.

2 ASHER & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

Asher's Model Books of Foreign and Commercial Correspondence. Intended as Class Books for Schools and for self-instruction. With copious Idiomatic Foot Notes, and Glossaries of Commercial Terms.

PART I.

THE ENGLISH CORRESPONDENT. By Dr. H. P. Skelton. With German Notes and Glossary, 2s. 6d.

PART II.

THE GERMAN CORRESPONDENT. By Dr. Chr. Vogel. With English Notes and Glossary, 2s. 6d.

PART III.

THE FRENCH CORRESPONDENT. By Dr.

Dann and F. Courvoisier. With English Notes and Glossary, 3s.

PART IV.

THE SPANISH CORRESPONDENT. By Dr. Dann and Don G. Gonzalez. With English Notes and Glossary, 3s.

PART V.

THE ITALIAN CORRESPONDENT. By Dr. A. Olivieri. With English Notes and Glossary, 2s. 6d.

"It is one of the most valuable series of books to the commercial world to which it has hitherto been our duty to call attention."—Blackburn Standard.

"These books are designed to serve a double purpose. In the first place, they are useful handbooks in the counting-house of the foreign merchant; in the second, they offer a ready means of teaching the commercial idiom to the youthful student. The books are exceedingly cheap, well printed and got up, and are likely to become very popular."—Manchester Courier.

"The plan upon which they are carried out is practical, and likely to ensure popularity."—Bullionist.

"The model books issued by Messrs. Asher and Co. are the best works we have seen for supplying the desideratum of sententious guides to those languages, both as regards matter and style. The letters given are of most extensive application, and the glossaries, notes, tables, etc., by which they are supplemented, are of great utility for idiomatic technical renderings. These handbooks will, we venture to predict, meet with the greatest success."—Liverpool Journal.

Asher's International Reading Books for Schools:

VOL. I.

SELECT GERMAN STORIES. By Prof. G. Storme, Hanover. With copious Notes, for the use of Schools and for self-instruction. A practical method of learning the German language. 3rd edition, carefully revised and considerably enlarged. 16mo., cloth, 2s. 6d.

VOL. II.

SELECT FRENCH STORIES. By E. A. Oppen, Haileybury College. A short and easy method of learning the French language; for the use of Colleges and for self-instruction. With Notes and Vocabulary. and edition, considerably enlarged and revised. 16mo., cloth, 2s. 6d.

VOL. III.

SELECT ITALIAN STORIES. By Dr. A. Olivieri. For the use of Colleges and Schools, and for self-instruction. A short and easy method of learning the Italian language. With Notes and a Glossary. 16mo., cloth, 2s. 6d.

VOL. IV.

SELECT SPANISH STORIES. By Dr. A. Olivieri. A short and easy method of learning the Spanish language. With English Notes and a Glossary. 16mo., cloth, 2s. 6d.

"There is no easier or pleasanter way of learning to read a language than through the medium of well-selected tales; and these little volumes offer to beginners a capital series of progressive reading lessons."—Bristol Mercury.

"These books are such as the merest beginner may take up and work his way through without that incessant reference to a dictionary which is so irksome in the very outset of linguistic studies."—Glasgow Herald.

"The reading books published by Messrs. Asher and Co. are prepared with a special view to imparting fluency in conversation and readiness in writing. The selections are short, practicable, and abound in colloquial phrases. The notes are full, but simple, and are placed at the foot of each page—by far the most sensible arrangement."—Birmingham Gazette.

Bolz (Dr. A.) A New Conversation Grammar of the German Language, adapted to the use of Schools and Private Instruction, after the practical and theoretical method of Robertson. 3 parts in 1 vol., cloth, 8vo., 5s.

"Dr. Boltz has really conferred a benefit upon those who wish to study the German Language. The system adopted is that known as the Robertsonian Method. Instead of dragging the learner painfully and laboriously through the whole Grammar, and forcing him to commit to memory all the declensions and conjunctions before he is allowed to begin the more interesting labour of translation, Dr. Boltz plunges him at once in mediam rem by placing before him one of Tieck's simple Fairy Tales, which is divided into Twenty Parts, forming the Twenty Lessons which constitute the first part of the work. This is by far the most interesting work on the German Language that we have met with for a long time."—Public Opinion.

"We consider the exercises to be so admirably graduated that they are likely to aid the student much more than are some works which predispose a knowledge that few elementary students possess."—Scholastic Register.

"Amongst the many manuals of this sort the present one should certainly take a very high place. The philosophical principles upon which it is based are alone sufficient to recommend it; and the careful way in which the whole teaching is graduated will be found most useful in practice."—Educational Times.

Borbstaedt (Col. A.) and Major Dwyer. The Franco-German War, from the Commencement of Hostilities to the Catastrophe of Sedan and the Fall of Strassburg. With complete "Ordre de Bataille" of both Armies; and numerous Maps, Diagrams, and Plans. 8vo., 700 pp., cloth extra, £1 1s.

"We have no hesitation in saying that Col. Borbstaedt and Major Dwyer's volume is the best account of the first part of the campaign that we have read."—Athenaeum.

Büchner (Dr. L.) Man in the Past, Present, and Future. A Popular Account of the results of recent Scientific Research as regards the Origin, Position, and Prospects of the Human Race. Translated by W. S. Dallas, F.L.S. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.

"This work, from its bold premises and sweeping conclusions, will certainly be regarded as startling in its defiance of received opinions."—Liverpool Advertiser.

Buxtorff (Johannis) Lexicon Chaldaicum Talmudicum et Rabbinicum denno edidit et annotatis auxit B. Fischer. Each part 1s. 6d. Parts 1 to 30, folio, £2 5s.

"The best Talmudic Lexicon, Buxtorff's, was published in 1639, and is at last gone into a new edition. The work is rare, and two important classes of students require it. To the Talmudist it is absolutely necessary; to the Semitic scholar it is of great value. Both will find the new edition not merely a more handy book of reference than its predecessor, but one enriched with considerable additions."—London Review.

Cohn (Albert) Shakespeare in Germany in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries. An Account of English Actors in Germany and the Netherlands, and of the Plays performed by them during the same period. In two Parts. Part I., Historical Accounts; II., Texts. With two plates of fac-similes. 4to, cloth, £1 8s.

"One of the most interesting and valuable contributions to Shakespearean literature which have ever reached us from Germany. . . . The present success of the efforts of Mr. Cohn opens a field of information, the existence of which has been hitherto almost unsuspected. . . . A volume which, in the points of interest and novelty, is not surpassed by any in the very recent Shakespearean productions. It is impossible, also, to speak too highly of the care and ability displayed by Mr. Cohn in its compilation."—Athenaeum.

"A magnificent volume, compassing a vast mass of information, discussion, and material in connection with this curious subject, has been compiled by Herr Albert Cohn . . . an erudite and cautious critic. . . . It is the great value of Herr Cohn's book that it not only conveys his own views, but furnishes the critic with a mass of material on which he may frame theories of his own."—Saturday Review.

"The particulars which he has collected are, for the most part, new or little known; and the volume, as a whole, is an important contribution to the literature of a subject of which the interest seems inexhaustible."—Reader.

"Mr. Albert Cohn's curious volume."—Rev. Alex. Dyce.

D'Anvers (N.) Elementary History of Art : a general introduction to ancient and modern Architecture, Sculpture, Painting, Music. With 130 Illustrations. For Schools and for Self-instruction. Cr. 8vo., cloth extra. 10s. 6d.

"In modern times Art has attained to a position of such great importance, that no one with any claim to culture can fail to take an interest in it, or dispense with acquaintance with the great masters and their most famous works : and it appears to us that teachers in the higher schools will not have acquitted themselves fully of their task if they fail to arouse and sustain this interest and to impart this knowledge."

Freytag (Gustav). Our Forefathers. Part I. Ingo and Ingeran. An historical Novel. Dedicated to H.I.H. the Crown Princess of Germany. Translated by Mrs. MALCOLM. 8vo., cloth, 6s.

"They are poems or pictures, more than novels, and are as healthy and cool as most of our commonplace novels are sickly and paltry."—Glasgow Herald.

"There are spirit-stirring scenes and descriptions in these stories, and the English public have reason to thank the publishers who introduced to them the works of Freytag in so worthy a shape."—Brighton Herald.

"Some of his descriptions and scenes are very grandly written."—The Daily Review.

"The whole book is written in a fine vigorous fashion."—Scotsman.

"The work is an admirable one for young readers ; it is full of stirring adventures, daring deeds, rude chivalry, brave men and lovely women."—Sheffield Daily Telegraph.

"There are few, if any, living writers of fiction, who could have solved a literary task of this description so adequately and gracefully as Herr Gustav Freytag."—Saturday Review.

Gesenius's Student's Hebrew Grammar, from the twenty-first German edition, as revised by E. Roediger, D.D., Professor of Oriental Languages at the University of Berlin. Translated by B. DAVIES, LL.D. With special Additions and Improvements by Dr. Roediger ; and with Reading Book and Exercises by the Translator. Second Edition. 8vo., cloth, 7s. 6d.

"We have compared this grammar with some dozen others, and are inclined to place it first of all, for convenience, clearness of arrangement, and general usefulness."—The Sword and the Trowel.

"No student can wish for better aid in mastering the initiatory intricacies of the sacred tongue."—English Churchman.

"For beginners, students, and general scholars, there is no better work than that of Gesenius, edited by Roediger."—Athenæum.

"Its simple and intelligible arrangement of materials, its generally sound conclusions, and its highly convenient form, will always make it the favourite text-book in all our schools and colleges. A volume which, as to finish and price, stands quite unrivalled."—British Quarterly Review.

Hochstetter (F.) New Zealand : its Physical Geography, Geology, and Natural History, with special Reference to the results of Government Expeditions in the Provinces of Auckland and Nelson. Translated from the German original by E. Sauter. With woodcuts, chromo-lithographs, and maps. Rny. 8vo., cloth, £1 5s.

Keane (A. H.) The True Theory of German Declension and Conjugation ; a contribution to the study of the German Language. For the use of Teacher and Student. 8vo., cloth, 2s. 6d.

"We are glad to see such a masterly handling of the subject of German Declension. . . . The author proceeds to explain his theory with regard to the inflection of the adjective and the verb in a very lucid and thorough manner."—Phoenix.

Koehler (Dr. F.) A Dictionary of the English and German Languages. 10th Edition. 8vo., half calf, 7s. 6d.

This is considered the best and cheapest German Dictionary, in a nice handy form, and with good type.

Lenormant's Student's Manual of Oriental History: a Manual of the Ancient History of the East; comprising the history of the Israelites, Egyptians, Assyrians, Phœnicians and Carthaginians, Babylonians, Medians, Persians, and Arabians. By François Lenormant, Librarian to the Institute of France. a vols., post 8vo., cloth, 12s.

"Altogether we may hail it as a useful book of reference for teachers, for senior pupils, and for men of education who desire to keep pace with the advance of European studies."—Allen's Indian Mail.

"M. Lenormant's Manual may be confidently recommended as a very considerable advance on anything we have ever had before on the same subject."—Tablet.

"The best proof of the immense results accomplished in the various departments of philology is to be found in Lenormant's admirable handbook of Ancient History."—Athenæum.

"One does not often see so skilful a specimen of lucid condensation as this work exhibits. The book will be found most useful, both from its completeness and clearness, and from the tone in which it is written."—Guardian.

Major (Richard Henry, F.S.A.) Life of Prince Henry of Portugal, surnamed the Navigator, and its results; comprising the Discovery within one century of half the World; with New Facts in the Discovery of the Atlantic Islands, a refutation of French claims to Priority of Discovery, Portuguese knowledge (subsequently lost) of the Nile Lakes, and the History of the Naming of America. From authentic contemporary documents. Illustrated with portraits, maps, etc. Royal 8vo., cloth, £1 5s.

"The Life of Prince Henry" is a piece of good work, full of new matter, and of high mark in European letters."—Athenæum.

Murray (A. S.) Manual of Mythology: Greek and Roman, Norse and Old German, Hindoo and Egyptian Mythology. With forty-five Plates on toned Paper, representing over one hundred Figures. Second Edition, re-written and enlarged. Crown 8vo., cloth extra, 9s.

"It is the best work of the kind in English."—Athenæum.

"The book is well arranged, and contains not only a narration of the events in the old-fashioned matter-of-fact way, but also the modern interpretations of the phenomena supposed to be involved in the myths."—The Architect.

"This is a most valuable work, suitable alike for the use of schools, private students, and general readers."—Leeds Mercury.

"The illustrations are beautiful, numerous, and after the best models of ancient art, drawn as they are from the very best sources."—Standard.

"Read as a whole, the book gives a very interesting account of the growth and influence of the early religions."—Builder.

"The book is extremely well done, and reflects high credit on its writer, illustrator, and publishers."—Illustrated Review.

"The 'Manual of Mythology' fulfils all the requirements of such a work. Is the production of an elegant scholar, and consequently trustworthy."—Graphic.

"As it stands, this volume is comprehensive; it is essentially handy; it puts many things right—the spelling of Greek proper names, the distinctness of the Greek from the Roman mythology."—Fortnightly Review.

Palmieri (Prof. L.) The Eruption of Vesuvius in 1872. With an introductory sketch of the present state of knowledge of Terrestrial Vulcanicity; the Cosmical Nature and Relations of Volcanoes and Earthquakes. By Robert Mallet, F.R.S., etc., etc. With eight Plates. 8vo., cloth, 7s. 6d.

"Mr. Mallet, in addition to his translation of the very valuable memoir of Palmieri, presents in an introduction of 78 pages a more detailed account of his own views. His paper is the most important contribution to this department of geological dynamics which has ever been brought forward; and the work above mentioned is by his share in it more than doubled in value."—Silliman's American Journal of Science.

Plate (H.) German Studies. A complete course of instruction in the German language. 3rd edition, 8vo., half calf, 3s.

6 ASHER & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

Poitevin (P.) Choix de Lectures. A selection of readings, in French Literature of the Nineteenth Century, extracted from the works of the most remarkable contemporaneous poets and prose writers. With biographical and literary memoirs. New edition. 12mo., cloth, 3s. 6d.

"Comprising passages from the works of no less than 140 French writers of the nineteenth century, this collection of 'Elegant Extracts' has been made with proper regard to the reputation of the numerous authors, and with due consideration for the peculiar needs of young students."—Athenæum.

Sahara and Lapland. Travels in the African Desert and the Polar World, by Count Goblet d'Alviella. With 18 Full-page Illustrations on toned paper. Cr. 8vo., cloth extra, 6s.

"Count d'Alviella tells the narrative of his travels in these two regions very pleasantly. He is a cheerful and observant and somewhat philosophic guide, and we can assure any one who cares to buy this work, that he will get the value of his money in enjoyment and information. The narrative of the Lapland journey is especially interesting, and contains information about a people and a country that we believe many know but little about."—Nature.

"The contrast between the great scorched desert of Sahara, and the snowy plains of Lapland, is sufficiently striking to make any book which may deal with both attractive to many readers. This volume, however, deserves to be read for the raciness of its descriptions, and the pleasant sparkling manner in which it is written. It has many excellent illustrations."—The Scotsman.

"The nomad of the desert and the nomad of the polar regions, each with his peculiar manners, customs, virtues and vices, are being civilized off the face of the earth."—The Examiner.

"The work is most pleasingly written, and attractively illustrated."—Birmingham Daily Gazette.

"Future travellers who read this book cannot fail to feel grateful for the many valuable hints as to the best manner in which they may overcome the difficulties inseparable from a journey either in Sahara or Lapland. The work is cleverly illustrated, and appears to be well translated by Mrs. Cashel Hoey."—Leeds Mercury.

Strauss (Dr. D. F.) The Old Faith and the New: a confession. Translated from the fourth German edition, by Mathilde Blind. Second English edition. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.

"The most hostile criticism will not refuse to recognise in it a becoming epilogue to an eventful chapter in the history of theological inquiry. The style is a model of elegance and precision, and the spirit of the work throughout breathes the dignified independence and disinterested love of truth which places Strauss so high above the ordinary run of writers on both sides of the controversy with which his name is identified."—Saturday Review.

Student's Hebrew Lexicon: a compendious Hebrew and Chaldee Lexicon to the Old Testament, chiefly founded on the works of Gesenius and Fürst, with improvements from Roediger, Dietrich, Ewald, and others. Edited by BENJAMIN DAVIES, Ph.D., LL.D., Translator of Roediger's Gesenius or Student's Hebrew Grammar. New Edition. 702 pp., 8vo., cloth, 12s.

"We have never seen anything so attractive in the form of a Hebrew book. Its execution leaves nothing to be desired."—Rev. J. PACKARD, D.D.

"We strongly recommend this volume to all intending or actual students of the leading Old Testament Language. The form is simply perfect."—London Quarterly Review.

"No better work can be put in the power of Biblical students."—Educational Times.

"It is the best Lexicon for a moderate price which can be procured in the English language. As a philological work, it is of superior excellence."—Sword and Trowel.

"The Lexicon has considerable merits."—Athenæum.

£ 1 12 0

La troisième Série sera exclusivement consacrée aux Décorations Peintes Intérieures. Elle ne comprendra que des planches en couleurs, reproduisant les œuvres les mieux réussies de nos architectes et de nos décorateurs modernes les plus justement estimés : intérieures de maisons à loyer, d'hôtels privés, de villas, de châteaux, etc.; les uns somptueux et riches, où l'ornementation devient une œuvre d'art véritable; les autres plus simples, plus modestes, mais où s'affirment néanmoins l'amour du beau et le goût perfectionné.

Le premier volume, divisé en trois sections, comprendra : 1—Les salons et leurs dépendances, grands et petits salons, boudoirs, etc. 2—Les salles à manger et leurs dépendances : salles à manger, salles de billard, fumoirs, etc. 3—Les chambres à coucher et leurs dépendances : chambres à coucher, oratoires, cabinets de toilette; salles de bain, etc.

Dans le second volume, également divisé en trois sections, on trouvera : 1—Les pièces réservées au travail : cabinets de travail, bibliothèques, galeries, etc. 2—Les accès et dépendances : passages divers, vestibules, cages d'escalier, antichambres, dégagements, etc. 3—Des intérieurs de magasins, de boutiques, etc., et des détails divers.

Cet ouvrage s'adresse, à la fois, à ceux qui possèdent déjà les deux premières séries de l'Architecture Privée, et aux décorateurs, peintres, ornemanistes, artistes industriels, etc.; il s'adresse enfin à tous ceux qui peuvent être appelés à concevoir, diriger, ou exécuter la décoration intérieure d'une habitation privée, quelle qu'en soit l'importance.

"Quite a jewel of a publication."—Caledonian Mercury.

"It is a wonderful production. We should think half-a-crown bestowed on this a much better investment than in the usual fashion-books."—Ormsbury Advertiser.

"The illustrations and patterns are so complete, that they speak for themselves without the interpretation of the text."—Newcastle Weekly Chronicle.

"We have not for many a day seen a work of this class which can so thoroughly be termed a Magazine of Fashion. The plates are real pictures, all exquisitely drawn and tinted."—Essex Standard.

"For the drawing-room work table, as well as for that of the modiste."—Press and St. James's Chronicle.

"The most splendid thing of the kind yet seen, surpassing any English publication."—Belfast Morning News.

"Decidedly the most elaborate of works on designs of fashion and ladies' work in general."—Gloucester Mercury.

"The most complete and elaborate fashion-book with which we are acquainted."—Court Circular.

"This is, par excellence, the most elaborate fashion-book of the day."—The Doncaster Chronicle.

"Our lady readers will pronounce it a charming magazine, and no establishment for the adornment of the fair sex can long be successful without it."—Somerset County Herald.

"It is far above the average of productions of this kind."—West End News.

"One of the most elaborate and handsomest works of the kind that we have seen."—Oxford Journal.

"As a lady's magazine it stands unrivalled."—Brighton Gazette.

"The woodcuts are of a superior order, and relate to fancy needlework, as well as to articles of dress; many of them are really exquisite examples of the graver's skill."—Exeter and Plymouth Gazette.

"This magazine is redolent of the choicest contributions which the most eminent Parisian artists can do for those who study and observe the caprices of fashion."—Leeds Weekly Express.

"It must be invaluable to all whom the requirements of fashion compel to keep up to the latest style."—Midland Gazette.

"It appeals to a select public, of which it is, we presume, the first favourite."—Middlesex News.
